- Eras instead of individual albums? So you don't have to design the individual pages
- Change background color of second mockup from light grey to light purple
- Might be difficult to code the timeline at the bottom?
- I like the horizontal scroll and the little albums that appear on the side to help users navigate
- Philanthropy page should be pretty simple, mostly texts and images, one long informational page
- Home page having different sections that are comprised of each of the main sections in the Nav bar and give a brief blurb and button for user to click into that specific page
  - Panels for each section (like in the multi-paneled page assignment)
- Animated home page intro? (B T S)
